

John Newman

John is a mayoral appointee to the Planning Board and works as an attorney in Missoula. He was born and raised in New Jersey and moved to Montana in 2006. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Chemistry and Environmental Studies from Middlebury College in Vermont; a Master's Degree in Human Geography from the University of Montana; and a law degree from the University of Montana.

Prior to becoming an attorney, John worked as a geographic information systems technician for a communications utility in New York City; a risk management consultant for a property insurer in the northeast; and a land use planner for Missoula County and the City of Missoula.

John is a proud resident of the Lewis & Clark neighborhood, where he and his wife Jaymi chase after their three young children. He enjoys the usual western Montana outdoor pursuits: whitewater rafting, camping, skiing, fishing, etc.
